

Most Admired Company

Penske Automotive Group has been named one of the World's Most Admired Companies in Specialty Retailing by FORTUNE magazine for 2019. "Penske Automotive is delighted and honored to be acknowledged as an industry leader and one of the world's most commended and esteemed companies," Penske Automotive Group Chairman Roger S. Penske said. "This recognition signifies the continued dedication of our team members to the growth and success of our company and solidifies our dedication to provide customers with an exceptional experience." FORTUNE's World's Most Admired Companies survey, collects responses from executives, directors, and analysts to rate companies in their own industry on nine criteria, from investment value and quality of management and products to social responsibility and ability to attract talent.
